

Ladies' Hat SALE

Continues up to Wednesday night.

The biggest value giving sale of the season.

Values up to $10, your choice of 85 Hats

$3.98

See Corner Window.

Teutsch's DEPARTMENT STORE

CITY BREVITIES

Wanted—Clean rags at this office. Nice furnished housekeeping rooms for rent. Inquire 802 Logan street.

Prize shooting gallery, billiards and pool. Ward & Bowlsby, Eagle building.

Wanted—At 211 Lincoln street, two gentleman roomers; workingmen preferred.

For Rent—Furnished house or housekeeping rooms. Apply 726 Johnson street.

Horse, buggy and harness for sale. Inquire Allie Knight, at Peoples Warehouse.

Mrs. Thompson, general stenographer and notary public, room 15, association block.

Sale on trimmed hats still continues. Great bargains. Mrs. Campbell's Millinery.

When in Portland stop at the Hotel Oregon. Rates $1 per day and upward. European plan. Free bus.

Check found in Low Sam & Co.'s store, payable to Mrs. W. R. Blaney, can be recovered by applying at this office.

For a good home-cooked Thanksgiving dinner go to the Kinman house, 612 Willow street, between 12 and 2 o'clock Thanksgiving day.

It has been used by American housewives for over a third of a century, and those who have used it longest praise it most. Stronger than other baking powders. Don't use as much of it. Ask your grocer for Cleveland's.

Season is Now on for Hot Water Bottles

2-quart 85c
3-quart $1.00
4-quart $1.15

Fountain Syringes

2-quart $1.00
3-quart $1.25

Rapid flow Fountain Syringe $1.25

All Rubbers Goods Guaranteed.

F. J. DONALDSON
Red Cross Pharmacy.

DIAMOND AND DIAMOND RINGS

If you are looking for a nice diamond let me show you one.

The PRICE will be right and the quality guaranteed.

LOUIS HUNZIKER,
JEWELER AND OPTICIAN,
726 Main Street.

THE CANDY SEASON IT OPEN.

we are receiving a fresh shipment of every week.

HUYLERS NEW YORK CANDIES

KOEPPENS

A.C. KOEPPEN & BROS. - PENDLETON, ORE.

PERSONAL MENTION

Clark Nelson visited at his home in Weston yesterday.

C. R. Dutro, of Helix, is in town attending the institute.

L. G. Frezier went to Portland Saturday night for a few days' business visit.

H. E. Van Dusen left this afternoon for Hermiston on a brief business visit.

Mrs. H. P. Preston and husband of Walsburg, are registered at the Hotel Pendleton today.

County Treasurer and Mrs. G. W. Bradley visited at Athena yesterday, returning home in the evening.

Claud Gatch, a state bank examiner for Oregon, has been in the city today, having arrived last night.

Mrs. T. L. Dunsmore, who has been seriously ill with typhoid for several weeks is considerably improved today.

Oliver P. Morton, attorney for the reclamation service, returned to Echo this morning after spending Sunday in the city.

Miss L. R. Lorenz went to Echo today on the delayed No. 1, in the interest of the East Oregonian and Portland Journal.

R. G. Lang, who went from here to Spokane some time ago and was ill at that time, is reported as having fully recovered his health.

Clark Wood, editor of the Weston Leader, came down from that place to attend the theater Saturday and visited in town over Sunday.

Will R. King, the Ontario attorney, passed through here yesterday on his way to Walla Walla, where his family is residing during the winter.

Frank Fellows, a civil engineer of Wisconsin, has been visiting here for several days with Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Waffie. He is the latter's cousin.

Miss Alberta Hopper of La Grande, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Walter Hopper for a few days. She was accompanied to the city by Miss Nellie Morton, also of La Grande.

W. A. Storie, superintendent of the bridge and building department of the O. R. & N., has been in the city for several days arranging for the final removal of his office to Portland.

Mrs. E. J. Muir and son Henry, left Sunday morning for Portland, Hillsboro and Ashland, where they will visit for several weeks. They will be joined by Mr. Muir at Ashland during the holiday week, from where they will all go to southern California to spend the winter.

Douglas Ball, traveling salesman for the Blake-McFall Paper company of Portland, is in the city today on a tour of eastern Oregon. Mr. Ball is a brother of O. R. Ball, manager of the American Typewriters company in Portland, who is well known in Pendleton and the inland empire.

EASTERN OREGON COMPANIES.

New Corporations Formed During Past Few Days.

The following new corporations in eastern Oregon have just filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state:

Present Needs Gold Mines company—Principal office, Pendleton, Ore.; capital stock, $1,000,000; incorporators, Zoeth Houser, Charles H. Brown and Merion Jack.

The Lucas-Hanks Mercantile company—Principal office, Union, Ore.; capital stock, $5000; incorporators, H. J. Lucas, W. D. Hanks and J. A. Lucas.

Snake River Land company—Principal office, Baker City, Ore.; capital stock, $10,000; incorporators, T. R. Berry, M. Boswell and J. K. Romig.

Sovereign Consolidated Copper company—Principal office, Baker City, Ore.; capital stock, $2,000,000; incorporators, James A. Howard, John Arthur and Kenneth O. McEwen.

WARRANT OUT FOR A. PERARD.

Accused of the Larceny of Seventy-Five Sheep.

A. Perard, the sheepman, has been charged with stealing 75 head of sheep from C. A. Anderson and this afternoon a warrant for his arrest was issued by Justice of the Peace Joe Parkes. Mr. Perard is in the city today and it is probable the papers will be served upon him while he is here.

The complaint against the sheepman was made by Mr. Johnson before John McCourt, acting district attorney, and later that official filed a formal charge in the justice's court. Perard is accused of having purloined the sheep while the Johnson band was being brought home from the summer range in the mountains.

FUNERAL OF D. H. CASEY.

The funeral of the late D. H. Casey occurred at 2:30 this afternoon from the Baker & Folsom undertaking parlors. The interment was in Olney cemetery, and the body was followed to that place by a number of relatives and friends of the dead man.

Kentucky Farmer Murdered.

Middlesboro, Ky., Nov. 26.—John Upson, a wealthy farmer, was slain this morning by James Hearld, a miner, who escaped to the mountains. They had long been enemies.

Grading Washington Street.

A force of men began work this morning grading Washington street north of the river, in accordance with a decision of the council a few weeks ago.

Will Review Caruso's Case.

New York, Nov. 26.—Judge O'Sullivan today signed an order permitting Caruso's case a review before the court of general sessions.

Read the East Oregonian.

Two More Days OF EXTRAORDINARY Bargain Giving and then this store will be ready for a most PHENOMENAL CHRISTMAS TRADE.

Ladies and Misses' high grade Tailored Suits and Coats at tremendous reductions.

Fashionable Dress Goods and Silks at a great saving.

Lace Curtains, Portiers and Draperies at reduced price concessions.

Ladies' and Misses' Hats at Clearing Sale Prices in the Millinery Department.

EXTRA SPECIAL

In Dress Goods Department

Cloakings that were $1.75, $2 and $2.50 reduced to a yard for the two remaining days only. These are blacks and grays mostly, and extra good values at prices quoted.

$1.00

The Peoples Warehouse

WHERE IT PAYS TO TRADE SAVE YOUR COUPONS

To the Teachers

You are invited to make this, Eastern Oregon's largest and best store, your headquarters. Visit here and become acquainted with the methods of this store, where none but dependable merchandise is offered you, with absolute satisfaction or your money back.

REDISCOVERY OF LOST CABIN MINE

EVIDENCE THAT IT WAS RECENTLY FILED UPON.

The Man Who Again Stumbled Upon It Was "Rooted" Out by a Favored Speculator, Who Seems to Have Some Kind of Standish With Officials of the Public Lands Department—The Latter Offered $10,000, Which Was Rejected—Has Organized $25,000,000 Corporation.

The claim the Asmus Boysen has located the Lost Cabin mine is substantiated by a story which, while it deals with events months ago, has just become public, says the Rocky Mountain Husbandman.

This story is to the effect that Guyne Drummond of Wheatland, who had a sub-contract from Edward F. Stahl of Cheyenne, to survey a portion of the ceded area of the Shoshone reserve, while making this survey last spring purely by accident discovered in a canyon feeding the gorge of the Big Horn river an ancient and ruined log cabin, through the center of which a cottonwood tree more than a foot in diameter had grown. The legends of the Lost Cabin mine say that a cottonwood tree grew through the cabin from which the mine derived its name, and the cabin in the canyon immediately reminded Drummond and his companion of the legend.

They are said to have investigated and to have discovered near the cabin an old mine working which uncovered a ledge of quartz carrying gold in fabulous quantities. They agreed to say nothing of their discovery, as the land on which the ledge appeared would not be open to mineral entry until October 15, on which date the filing of claims by homeseekers who participated in the reservation would come to an end.

Drummond and his companion, so says the story, adhere to their resolution to say nothing about their find, as they intended to file a location of the ledge after the land became subject to entry. Their plans, however, were spoiled by the fact that other members of the survey party also stumbled upon the ruined cabin and saw the old mine workings. At that time Asmus Boysen, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, who had accomplished the unique feat of securing from the congress of the United States a right to go upon the Shoshone reservation and locate 640 acres of mineral land in advance of all other persons, was also searching for the most likely tract in the reservation upon which to place his special location.

One of the surveyors who had knowledge of the mysterious workings in the reservation, is said to have gone to Boysen and informed him of this knowledge, but to have been unable to give accurate account of the location of the place. Boysen is said to have immediately gone to Drummond and offered him $10,000 for guidance to the cabin. Drummond, the story says, was in favor of accepting the offer, but his companion objected, and the deal was not made.

Boysen then determined to find the mysterious cabin and ledge without any guidance and with that object in view threw his men into the reservation despite the opposition of the Indian agent and the military then patrolling the reservation for the purpose of keeping all prospective locators off it. Boysen and his men were ejected but not until they had accomplished their purpose and located the cabin and the rich ledge.

Boysen at once went to Lander and filed in the land office there a 640-acre mineral location covering the cabin and neighborhood, including the gorge of the Big Horn river. It is at this point that he is now working a large force of men and is preparing to build a $250,000 power plant at the mouth of the gorge.

*The story that Boysen's claim covers the Lost Cabin mine is further substantiated by samples of ore from his location which have been brought to Cheyenne. They are literally studded with gold and one piece half the size of a man's hand contains $15 worth of the precious metal.

If Boysen has found the Lost Cabin mine his $25,000,000 corporation, which was the basis of his 640-acre location, would seem to have a firm foundation.

Miss Andrus Not at Meeting.

Miss Retta Andrus, of Dale, who rode from Dale to Pendleton on horseback to attend a teachers' institute two years ago, is not present at the teachers' meeting now in progress in this city. The feat of Miss Andrus will always be a subject of interest in teachers' meetings in Umatilla county. She faced a driving snowstorm for two days in riding in 75 miles to be present at a county institute. The performance stands alone in the many accomplishments of school teachers in the inland empire, so far as is known.

Site Selected.

Washington, Nov. 26.—The secretary of the treasury this afternoon announced he has selected the site for the public building at Eureka, Cal., at the corner of Fifth and H streets, conditioned upon the abdication by the city of a portion of a 20-foot alley.

WE ARE STILL HAMMERING. away and emphasizing the great value of our lumber and its superior quality for building and other purposes. If we did not positively know it to be all right we would not guarantee it, but we do know it to be the soundest and strongest lumber ever offered in this market, remarkably free from imperfections, and cut into convenient lengths for quick use. Our prices, as you know, were always low.

OREGON LUMBER YARD

512 Alta St. Phone Main 8

Byers' Best Flour

Is made from the choicest wheat that grows. Good bread is assured when BYERS' BEST FLOUR is used. Bran, Shorts, Steam Rolled Barley always on hand.

PENDLETON ROLLER MILLS

W. S. BYERS, Proprietor.